

Hunger in America 2014 Errata

April 2016

Erratum in: Feeding America, Hunger in America 2014, National Report. August 2014.

Feeding America, Hunger in America 2014, Executive Summary. August 2014.

For the first time in the study's history, the Hunger in America 2014 Client Survey asked respondents about current military service among members of their household.

Subsequent analyses conducted by the Feeding America Research Team since the release of Hunger in America 2014 suggest findings related to current military service are likely inaccurate. As a result, we have removed information about current military service from the online versions of the Hunger in America 2014 National Report (pages 96-97) and Executive Summary (page 14) and discourage others from using these statistics.
